SAYS CHINA'S CASE IS HARD PROBLEM FOR CONFERENCE

London Paper Sees Japan's Claim Looming Large In Washington

CHAOS IS FACTOR

"Internal Strife and Nearness Of Nippon Must Govern America"

(Reuter's Service)

London, Sept. 25.—In a leading article on the Washington Conference the Observer says there is every reason to think that the proceedings will open in the best of atmospheres, but it emphasises the difficulty of the problem.

It declares that if the whole Pacific settlement depended solely on the exercise of forbearance and the will to compromise, there would be nothing intrinsically difficult therein, but, once the search turns to a basis for disarmament, the internal weakness and prevailing chaos in China appear as potential factors of perpetual uncertainty.

"How to stabilise this shifting element is the central problem," says the Observer.

TAXES GOOD WILL

"It will tax not only the good will but the practical statesmanship of the whole Conference. It means definite proposals of reorganisation.

"It means, for success, the uniting of all the Powers concerned upon a strict and uniform application of agreed principles to their relations with China.

"It will involve further from America and the Western Powers the recognition that the economic and geographical position of Japan—almost an integral part of the mainland of Asia—differs fundamentally from their own, and must govern her attitude towards the whole problem."

DEPEND ON AGENDA

(Reuter's Service)

London, Sept. 24.—The composition of the British delegation to Washington will depend on the exact nature of the agenda. Thus the important position of Chinese affairs in the program may require the appointment of a British representative specially qualified to discuss Chinese questions.

Paris, Sept. 24.—The newspapers state that it is definitely settled that M. Briand (Premier), M. Sarraut (Minister of the Colonies) and M. Jusserand (Ambassador at Washington) will represent France at the Washington Conference. The choice of the fourth representative lies between M. Viviani and M. Loucheur. The latter will probably be chosen, as M. Viviani's connection with the League of Nations causes some difficulty.

KIRIN SENDS DELEGATES

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Sept. 23.—A deputation representing local bodies at Kirin is on its way to Peking to interview the Government regarding the forthcoming Pacific Conference.

The appointment of experts from various departments as advisers to the Chinese Delegation continues. Messrs. Wang Chih-chang (Chief of the Industrial and Commercial Department of the Ministry of Commerce and Agriculture) and Chow Tien (Chancellor of that Ministry) have now been selected.

WON'T RECOGNISE NORTH

(Kuo Wen News Agency)

Canton, Sept. 26.—Dr. Tsiang Mon-lin, who arrived here a few days ago in connexion with matters relating to the Pacific Conference, returned to Shanghai by the Taikoo steamer Sinkiang yesterday. It is reported that his mission to Canton met with a hearty welcome.

Dr. Wang Ching-wei, vice Minister of Education in the Constitutional Government in Canton, left for Shanghai yesterday in company with Dr. Tsiang. He is to go to Shanghai to discuss certain matters in connexion with the Pacific Conference.

The authorities of Hunan, Szechuen, Yunnan, Kweichow, Kwangtung and Kwangsi have telegraphed openly stating that they do not recognise the Northern delegation to the Pacific Conference at Washington.

NOTE URGES UNITY

(Kuo Wen News Agency)

Canton, Sept. 24.—The Constitutional Government has received a telegram from Mr. Ma Soo, its agent in Washington, reporting that the American State Department has written a Note to Dr. Alfred Sze, Minister representing the Northern Government, to the effect that although Peking has been invited to send representatives to the Washington Conference it is expected that China will be able to send a representative delegation.

Even if Peking sends a delegation and the South has representatives in Washington to oppose, the questions brought up will not be valid. The Note concludes by hoping that North and South China will unite and cooperate.

Warns Women Who Ape Males They Will Have Male Characteristics

Col. Binshah Ghadiali.

COLONEL Binshah Ghadialali, the noted Parsee psychologist, has issued a warning that women who ape men will lose their equilibrium and take on male characteristics even to growing beards. From Paris comes the startling news that French doctors are able to prove by statistics that alcohol and cigarettes cause an abnormal growth of hair on the faces of those who indulge to excess.

SLOWNESS IN FAMINE AID VEXING THE POWERS

Lord Robert Cecil Says Situation Most Serious

(Reuter's Service)

Geneva, Sept. 25.—The delay in the action of the European Governments to cope with the Russian famine has created a painful impression in League circles. It is pointed out that relief steps should be taken with as little delay as possible, as thousands are said to be dying darily.

Lord Robert Cecil, interviewed by Reuter, declared that the situation in Russia was most serious. People were fleeing from the famine areas and carrying disease, which might invade Eastern Europe.

He was of opinion that the League could have dealt with the whole matter, and said that if relief did not come soon, it would be too late, as, once the waterways of Russia were frozen, communication with the interior would become almost impossible.

Geneva, Sept. 25.—The subcommittee appointed by the League of Nations to examine the subject of Russian famine relief has decided, in the present circumstances, to report to the Assembly that the latter would not be justified:

First, in addressing an urgent appeal to the various governments to afford the necessary credits; secondly, in asking the Council to offer the administrative services of the International Credits Organisation in connection with relief purposes.

Vera Pohlman On Trial; Evidence Refutes Parts Of Letters From Norman

Prosecution Starts Case Against Girl And Will Resume This Afternoon; Escaped Prisoner Writes Another Letter

Another chapter in the Norman case upon which public interest has been focused for the past four weeks opened yesterday in the United States Commissioner's Court when Vera Pohlman, the woman in the case, was called to answer the charge that she aided Amos E. Norman and his companion, Henry Muncie, when they made their escape from the American prison on the night of September 7.

After Muncie was recaptured some ten days ago the authorities redoubled their efforts to retake Norman who was the prime mover in the prison break, and Norman not only has contrived to keep himself safely hidden in the very meshes of the net spread to catch him, but by means of letters addressed to THE CHINA PRESS he has been communicating daily with his pursuers. Even while yesterday's hearing was in progress another of his letters arrived.

The writer of all these extraordinary letters frankly admits himself to be a criminal—a smuggler, army deserter and gunman, but he may be given credit for a degree of sincerity and his latest letter proves that he has a sense of fair play, for the letter was written with the purpose of making a public apology to the U. S. Marshal N. E. Lurton. In published reports Norman was permitted to learn that he had fallen into error in a statement he had written and he therefore sent the apology.

ABSURD PHONE CALL

One rather unusual incident of yesterday that may or may not have a real relation to the case was an absurd telephone call that was received at eight minutes after midnight last night in the editorial rooms of THE CHINA PRESS. The person on the telephone declared himself to be Amos E. Norman and the request made was that assurances be given to Vera Pohlman that she will be protected.

It is not to be believed that this was Norman himself. The fugitive has proved himself to be daring and uncannily resourceful on a number of occasions, but with all of his audacity and his disregard for his own safety Norman would never venture to leave his hiding place and expose himself, even at midnight, in any such manner. The call, strangely, was received over Central 676, which is a 'phone devoted chiefly to private uses and is not listed in the directory. After making the request the person who called abruptly put up the receiver.

Every letter that Norman has written has been an effort to aid Vera Pohlman. He says himself that it is only for her that he has remained in his dangerous position in Shanghai and he denies that he has had any desire to taunt the authorities or to court the limelight of public attention.

And it is fairly apparent that his unique motive has been only to present a defense for the girl—to be an absent witness at her trial.

GIRL TRAGIC FIGURE

It has all been sadly trying for Vera Pohlman. It is said that she once was beautiful and that in her youth as an artiste in Russia she won plaudits for her grace and charm as a dancer, but this is hard to believe today. Snatched suddenly from an obscure place in the murkiest depths of Shanghai's social life, she has proved herself to be but a drab and sorrowful heroine, even for the vulgar drama in which she has become a character.

When she was led into the court room yesterday by Marshal Lurton her steps faltered and wavered like those of a person wretched and weary from a toilsome journey over a difficult pathway. The only sign of animation was in her deep sunken eyes which swept the crowded room with a single glance and then dropped again to her feet.

Vera Pohlman is said to be about 30 years old, but she sank into the chair that was placed for her as though she bore the burden of three-score. It is said that she has long been a victim of drugs and she was brought to the court from a hospital mental ward in which she has been a prisoner since she was arrested. At her entrance every eye in the throng was turned upon her and conscious of this, she sat there miserably knotting and reknotting a handkerchief that she had in her hands, a lonely and pathetic figure. And then just as the proceedings were being opened her lips trembled and she began to sob softly into the twisted handkerchief.

FIVE WITNESSES

The testimony that was given by five witnesses called by the prosecution was more or less perfunctory, covering details of the case that are familiar to the public.

Maj. C. P. Holcomb, United States District Attorney, with Marshal N. E. Lurton is appear-

NO LEAGUE FOR US SAY HUNGARIANS AND BOLIVIA

Two Nations Fear Body Is Not Competent to Aid In Their Troubles

(Reuter's Service)

Geneva, Sept. 24.—Hungary has withdrawn her application for admission to the League of Nations. Bolivia also threatens to withdraw from the League, because a Committee of jurists has decided that the League is not competent to revise her treaty with Chile of 1904.

APPEAL TO REASON

London, Sept. 25.—The dispute between Poland and Lithuania in regard to the possession of Vilna (at present occupied by the Polish General Zeligowski) was discussed at length by the Assembly of the League of Nations at Geneva. The Assembly finally unanimously adopted a combined resolution moved by Lord Robert Cecil and M. Zahle (Denmark), appealing to the wisdom of Poland and Lithuania to settle the dispute. Lord Robert Cecil and M. Bourgeois (France) pointed out that the Council was unable to arrive at a final recommendation because the case had not been fully submitted to the Assembly.

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Paris, Sept. 24.—The League of Nations Assembly, after hearing the report by Mr. Hymans (Belgium) on the difference between Poland and Lithuania, expressed complete approval of the policy followed by the Council, and unanimously decided to give full support to the solution proposed by the Council for bringing about an agreement between the two parties.

DISCUSS REPORT

Paris, Sept. 24.—The Assembly of the League of Nations yesterday discussed the report of the Consultative and Technical Committee on Communications and Transport. At the conclusion of the discussion the four following resolutions were adopted:

(1) Stipulating that general conferences on communications and transit may be resumed at the request of members of the League.

(2) Recommending the immediate adoption by all States of the resolutions adopted by the Passports Conference in Paris in October, 1920, providing for a simplified passport system.

(3) Asking all States to accord to members of the various Commissions of the League of Nations all possible facilities in the matter of passports.

(4) Approving the addition of a Czecho-Slovakian railway expert to the Communications and Transit Commission, and asking Commission to nominate at future sessions one or more experts from riverain States of the Danube.

LEAGUE GROWS STRONGER

Paris, Sept. 25.—The reports from Geneva show that the League of Nations is gradually strengthening and improving its position, and giving proof of its effectiveness. The recent speech by M. Leon Bourgeois, the principal French delegate, has produced a great impression, and been widely published.

The Ere Nouvelle remarks that what has contributed to give prestige to the League is the reliance that the Allied Powers have placed on its Council. The

BAVARIA TO FAVOR ONLY FEDERATION IN GERMANY

Premier States Is Stand Regarding The Imperial Centralisation

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Paris, Sept. 24.—In the course of a speech in the Bavarian Diet on his becoming Premier, Count Lerchenfeld affirmed Bavaria's fidelity to the Empire, but declared that he could only acknowledge a federal German Empire, and expressed his opposition to all excessive centralisation.

He announced that he would resume the pourparlers with the Imperial Government where the negotiations were broken off by the Bavarian representatives on the 11th instant.

Count Lerchenfeld has since arrived in Berlin, where it is thought in Parliamentary circles that his visit will lead to the speedy and favorable solution of the matters at issue between Bavaria and the Empire.

(Reuter's Service)

Berlin, Sept. 25.—The newspapers state that the conference between Dr. Wirth (the Imperial Chancellor) and Count von Lerchenfeld (the Bavarian Premier) has resulted in a satisfactory settlement of the dispute between Bavaria and the Central Government.

The Tageblatt says a compromise has been reached, whereby the German States will henceforth enjoy greater authority in regard to the suppression of newspapers, and Bavaria will be given a suitable period in which to consolidate her internal conditions before the state of siege is raised.

MOTOR CAR MEN TO RECOMMEND LICENCE CHANGES

Requested Modifications Of Rules Soon To Be Presented

Specific recommendations to the Municipal Council for modification of garage licencing regulations will be made in the near future by the Emergency Committee appointed at last week's meeting of motor car men. The Committee held a meeting yesterday at the Central Garage, and after going over the regulations in detail, decided to engage legal counsel to draft a petition to the Council, outlining the ideas of the garage men for changes in the regulations.

The changes to be asked are not numerous, but they are regarded as extremely important. The motor car men feel that the new regulations were drafted without sufficient consideration for the trade, and that, in laying down rules for fire protection the framers of the new rules went beyond the line of reasonable caution.

In the discussions at the committee meeting yesterday it was made plain that the motor car men do not intend to adopt an antagonistic attitude toward the Council, but rather to place themselves in a position of sympathetic helpfulness toward the city officials in framing a code that will give every safeguard to the municipality, but at the same time work no undue hardship on the industry. It was also brought out that no resentment is felt toward the city officials who drafted the new rules, all of whom, the motor car men feel, acted as they thought for the best interests of the city.

The effort to have the regulations modified springs more from fear of what future officials might be able to do the trade if they were inclined to be arbitrary and unreasonable. This fear, the members of the trade say, is well justified, since the power given to bureau chiefs under some of the new regulations is final and absolute.

By way of showing the sincerity of their attitude toward the municipal authorities, the Committee Secretary was instructed to write a letter to Mr. Rowe, Secretary of the Municipal Council, requesting him to have a representative of the Council attend the next meeting of the Committee.

TREATY SIGNING TO BRING ARMY OF U. S. FROM RHINE

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, Sept. 24.—A letter from President Harding, read in the Senate, declared that the Austrian, German and Hungarian treaties were in complete harmony with the Knox resolution and would end the last remnant of the war.

Senator Lodge reiterated his opinion that the withdrawal of the American troops on the Rhine would begin soon after the ratification of the treaties and called attention to the fact that neither Italy nor Japan had troops on the Rhine.

NEW WAR IS ON OVER THE ALBANIA AND SERB BORDER

Serbians Occupy Distrtct After 24 Hours Bombing Of Six Positions

(Reuter's Service)

London, Sept. 25.—A new war has broken out in the Near East as the result of the failure of the League of Nations to fix the Serbo-Albanian frontier. Reuter's Rome correspondent transmits a message from Valona, stating that the commander of the Serbian forces on the River Drina gave the Albanians 24 hours' notice to evacuate six strategically important positions on the frontier.

The Albanians failed to comply, whereupon, after a furious 24 hour bombardment, the Serbians occupied the district.

The Albanians reattacked and, after bitter fighting, when both sides lost heavily, they repulsed the Serbians, taking prisoner a number of Serbs and Russians belonging to the former Wrangel army.

Huron And Eleven Other U.S. Navy Ships Will Sail For South

The U. S. S. Huron, flagship of the Asiatic Fleet, and the 11 American destroyers in port, are leaving this morning. The Huron will go South on its annual China cruise, stopping at various ports along the Coast, while the Destroyers are going direct to Olangapo for target practice.

The 26th Destroyer Division starts on its first lap for San Francisco, the ships of the division here joining the Chandler and the Southard, now in Manila, remaining there until the end of April and then sailing for America. Another division is coming to the Far East to relieve the 26th. The Hovey, Broome, Long and Alden are the 26th Division destroyers leaving here today.

The other ships sailing for Olangapo this morning are the Hart, J. D. Edwards, Smith Thompson, Borie, Barker, Whipple and Tracy. The destroyers are scheduled to go down river about 10 o'clock.

The affair also marked the opening of the new basement auditorium in the Navy Y, dances having previously been given in the adjoining building. Music was furnished by the U. S. S. Huron orchestra and refreshments by the American Woman's Club Social Service Department.

SZECHUENESE ARMY DRIVEN BACK; MORE MEN ON WAY

Lull Comes After 23 Days Of Firing—Ichang Now Is Quiet

NO RIVER TRAFFIC

Socony Boat, The Meitan, Tells Of Troops Moving And Steamers Wait

(Staff Wire To THE CHINA PRESS)

Hankow, Sept. 26 (7 p.m.) —Heavy fighting was going on at Ichang throughout last night, resulting in the withdrawal of the Szechuenese from all sides of the city. For the first time within 23 days, the sound of guns was not heard in Ichang for a whole day.

The entrance to Ichang is cleared and the general situation has improved but undue weight should not be attached to this temporary success.

The Meitan of the Standard Oil Company which has just arrived from Chungking reports that further reinforcements of Szechuen troops are coming down the river and that consequently the resumption of foreign steamer traffic is inadvisable.

There was fighting all the ridge all day Saturday. The Northern troops won out as a result of General Wu Pei-fu's vigorous shelling on the South bank two miles down Ichang. He was assisted by two gun boats and an armed yacht.

The French steamer Hungfu was heavily fired upon above Ichang. The Szechuenese seized the French vessel Hsin Shun Hung and compelled it to transport troops wearing civilian clothes from Chungking towards Ichang. It has not been learned where the troops landed.

WU ANNOUNCES PROGRAM

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Sept. 23.—General Wu Pei-fu in his last report to the Government, after dealing with the fresh attack on the part of the Szechuenese, estimates that he will require a further ten days to defeat the Szechuenese, and adds that when order has been restored in Szechuen and Human he will begin conversations with Yunnan and Kweichow. His object is to bring hostilities to an end before the Washington Conference.

WU STARTS ATTACK

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Ichang, Sept. 24.—The Northerners began an offensive yesterday afternoon, when troops were landed on the south bank, under cover of fire from the heavy and machine-guns of the warships. The south bank was cleared, and there has been no sniping directed on the Bund, today, for the first time for nearly three weeks.

The Commissioner for Foreign Affairs has issued the following communique to the British Consul-General:

"General Wu Pei-fu informs me that in the attack on the enemy on the south bank of the river yesterday, the Hupeh troops had a great success. The portion of the enemy occupying the Pyramid has been driven back.

"The attack will be continued today, and it is hoped that the enemy will soon be cleared out.

"There has been no fighting to the north-east for three days, but a Northern offensive is expected to begin there soon.

According to communications received by the Robert Dollar Company shipping between Ichang and Chunking has been suspended and all boats are tied up at Ichang because of the hostile attitude of the soldiers.

Word has been received that the soldiers are firing on all ships leaving Ichang regardless of the flag the boat is flying.

An Asiatic Petroleum Company boat which started from Ichang on Wednesday was fired upon and forced to return.

Since then no boats have left Ichang.

POLAND SENDS ULTIMATUM AND RUSSIA REPLIES

(Rosta News Agency)

Moscow, Sept. 22.—According to Mr. Trotsky's report on the international situation on Sept. 20 in the Moscow Soviet, the Polish Government on September 19 sent to Soviet Russia an ultimatum which expires on October 5.

Mr. Trotsky said that on his last visit to Ukrainia it was found that the French imperialists were in contact with the bands of Savinkoff and Petilura. There are original documents and photographic reproductions proving the participation of the Polish General Staff in the organisation of bands which are being smuggled into the territory of Soviet Russia.

On September 3, Mr. Trotsky said in his report, the French Government ordered Poland to send an ultimatum to the Soviet Government, and stated that in view of the famine Soviet Russia would not reject Poland's demands, and if she should, Poland and Rumania could depend upon French help. After deliberations the Polish military clique got the upper hand and an ultimatum was sent on September 19 which expires on October 5.

"Meantime," said Mr. Trotsky, "we shall negotiate with Poland, as we want peace and have not the least desire for war. We must keep our composure even in the face of this insolent ultimatum, and advise the Polish militarists to keep the peace, and appeal to the Polish peasants and workers to help us to compel them to do so."

In connection with this report, the Moscow Soviet adopted a resolution announcing that the toilers of Russia are ready to protect their peasants' and workers' republic to the last.

The resolution appeals to the workers of the entire world to prevent this new adventure of the militarists and the bourgeoisie when Soviet Russia is struggling with the famine. The Moscow Soviet orders the Red Army to be on the alert and the toilers to concentrate their energy on their work.

war and the peace which follows it. Enmity which has been aggravated to an unnatural and inhuman degree still divides the world. It seems that humanity and the world are bleeding to death as a result of this hostility.

"Germany also happens to be a nation pushed into the abyss. After the punishment of the war, the German people are persecuted by more and more penalties. The fields covered by crosses under which millions of our best sons lie rotting cannot satiate the desire of the Pharisaical world. However, we must suppose that individuals as well as nations and the entire human race are subject to alternate periods of emancipation and reaction.

WITH SET TEETH

"Let us hope that the present period of reaction will be followed by emancipation. So let us preserve, esteemed friend, our faith in the coming emancipation. This I say with set teeth. Perhaps the time is nearer than it seems to us. Perhaps the dazzling ray of your appeal for help will restore what you call the creative power and humanity of the human race.

"Perhaps this dazzling ray will revive the dry tree of humanity and make it flourish anew to the benefit of Russia and the world. Indeed, it seems to me, this hope will not be in vain. Kindness dwells in human beings as the power of shooting forth new boughs dwells in a tree, however bare it may stand with its crown under the snow.

"I dare to assure you that all the civilised world has heard your heart-rending appeal not only with ears but also with the heart, and that its response will not be wanting. The more the world can accomplish, the better it will succeed in overcoming the famine and the diseases, and more deeply will humanity purify its soul. The German people, who have been subjected to hard trials and are ever ready to offer their assistance, have already been deeply touched by the appeal from the East. I can declare assuredly that the people and the government of Germany are united by a sincere desire of extending real help to the limit of their resources."

TRANSPORT IS EFFECTIVE

Moscow, Sept. 20.—The Inter-Departmental Conference at Moscow has established the fact that the railways are able to carry 17,000,000 poods of foodstuffs to famine districts monthly, in other words as much as the ports can handle.

The Poltava province has delivered 170,000 poods of grain to Volga region 13 days ahead of schedule.

AIDING PEASANTS

Moscow, Sept. 19.—The Kronstadt Famine Relief Committee has collected from Sept. 1 to 15, 2,000,000 roubles and a quantity of manufactured articles including farming implements.

GOVT. CAN HANDLE IT

Moscow, Sept. 20.—The Moscow paper Pravda in an article entitled The Famine Game, points out that the Allies are not unanimous in favor of utilising the famine for attaining the political aims of reactionaries. Among the French bourgeoisie there are dissentions on this point. The article expresses confidence that the Government is strong enough to cope with the situation.

(Reuter's Service)

London, Sept. 26.—British scientific medical research will be enormously helped by the acquisition of two grammes of radium, the largest quantity ever accumulated, which Professor Frederick Soddy, Lee's Professor of Inorganic and Physical Chemistry at Oxford University, brought to England yesterday evening from the Czecho-Slovakian State mines at Joachimstal.

The precious mineral, which is valued at £70,000, was specially packed in lead three inches thick. It has been rented for 15 years by a London company, which will sub-rent it.

The Joachimstal mines' output is only four grammes annually and the present hiring cost of the smallest quantities is six guineas per diem.

NILE IN THURSDAY

The China Mail Steamship Company steamer Nile sailed from Kobe Sunday afternoon and will be dispatched from Nagasaki this afternoon according to advice received by the local agency. The Nile arrives here Thursday morning.

The Nile will dock at the China Merchants Central Wharf and will be dispatched with passengers, cargo and mail for Hongkong, Singapore, Batavia, Samarang and Sourabaya on Thursday or Friday, the exact time to be announced later.

I CAN SWIM BUT VIOLIN CANNOT SAYS KUBELIK

Famous Instrument Wrapped In Life Preserver When Ships Crashed

(Reuter's Service)

London, Sept. 24.—The famous violinist Jan Kubelik, who was travelling from Prague for a concert tour in England after eight years' absence, was a passenger on board the Jan Breydel, when she collided with and sank the Norwegian steamer Salina in the Channel. He informed an interviewer that he was sitting in his deck cabin reading, when he heard people rushing about the deck. Everyone could see that a collision was inevitable. The question was which boat would sink, but there was no panic. The mail-boat struck the Salina, which sank in four minutes.

The boats of the Jan Breydel were immediately lowered and saved twelve of the Salina's crew.

Asked what his first impulse was, M. Kubelik replied: "My first thought was for my violin. I put a lifebuoy found it, so that it should be saved, for a man can save himself, but a violin is helpless. It was terrible to see the men, and especially the captain's boy, drowning. I could not look at the sinking boat.

M. Kubelik's violin, a famous "Emperor Stradivarius," is considered the finest in the world, and worth £25,000. There were pathetic scenes on the landing of the survivors at Dover. These included the captain, whose wife and two children were on board. The wife died in hospital, where the surviving boy remains.

Evidence Refutes Parts Of Letters From Norman

...for the government and Mr. ...onard W. Hartigan, who has ...en appointed to defend the ...l, gave ample evidence of his ...tention to fight to the last ...tch for her.

In opening the hearing Major ...olcomb outlined the charge ...ainst Vera Pohlman, saying ...at he proposed to prove by ...rcumstantial evidence that she ...pplied the means by which ...o Norman and Henry Muncie ...ade their escape after assault...g the jailer. Commissioner ...huhl then asked if the defense ...as prepared to proceed and Mr. ...artigan replied saying that the ...efense was ready.

Many of the things, in fact ...ost of the things that Norman ...s written in his letters have ...en found to be true, but in one ...sential particular brought out ... testimony yesterday the wit...sses denied his assertions.

REFUTE HIS LETTERS

In one of his letters Norman ...clared that when he was ar...sted he was wearing only a ...ir of knee-length drawers ...neath which, he said and next ... his skin, his pistol was strap...d to his leg and so passed un...served by the officers.

On the occasion that Norman ...fers to he was arrested by Mr. ...hn F. Prosser, Detective In...ector of the International Set...ment Police Department and ...puty U. S. Marshal James L. ...rdner. Both of these officers ...stified yesterday and statements ...ey made concerning the arrest ...mained unchanged under a ...gorous cross-questioning of Mr. ...artigan.

Both officers declared that when ...ey arrested Norman he was ...aring only an undershirt. ...ey said that as a detail of ...entification they looked for a ...ound to be on Norman's right ...igh and in order to look at this ...ound they partly removed the ...dershirt. Both officers were ...phatic in the assertion that ...en the arrest was made Nor...an did not have a pistol. His ...othing was searched thoroughly ...fore he was permitted to clothe ...mself and after the arrest was ...ade the prisoner was not out ... their sight an instant. Mr. ...rdner said; in fact Norman ...as not permitted to get out of ...ach of his hand.

SEARCHED AGAIN

Further testimony was to the ...ect that Norman again was ...arched when he arrived at the ...ison and, another witness, Mr. ...harles B. Ludwig, jailer, said ... was certain that Norman had ... weapon with him when he ...as confined. Mr. Ludwig said ...at he had searched even the ...ams of Norman's clothing, say...g, he knew Norman to be a ...ow bird.' He explained the ...rm saying he meant a user of ...caine.

Marshal Lurton was the fifth ...tness called and he corroborat... what had been said concerning ...sits of Vera Pohlman to the ...ison and concerning other de...ils. In the course of the hear...g the defense asked that Henry ...uncie, who escaped with Nor...an, be called, and Major Hol...mb pointed out that no sub...ena had been issued for him ...hich left the question of whe...er or not he would testify for ...m to decide. When a call was ...nt to the prison Muncie declin... to testify and in view of this ... Hartigan asked that a sub...ena be issued for him.

RESUME TODAY

The prosecution will continue ... case before Commissioner ...uhl at 2 o'clock this afternoon ...when Muncie will be called as a witness.

Norman's latest letter to THE CHINA PRESS is self explanatory. In connection with it, however, one thing is extraordinary. The letter was dated at 7 o'clock Sunday morning. It should be explained that the first papers that left the presses of THE CHINA PRESS were in the mail edition that went out at 6:20 o'clock.

If Norman is truthful in the matter of dating his letter, it can only mean that within a space of an hour and forty minutes he obtained a paper, read the several columns it contained concerning himself and set about writing the letter.

This latest letter is as follows:

THE LETTER

Sun. Sept. 25, 7 a.m. on Board S. S. ———
The Bund, Shanghai.

From: Amos E. Norman.
To: Editor CHINA PRESS

Subject: A Public Apoligie to Mr. Lurton.

Dear Sir:—I wish to let Mr. Lurton know that I am sorry that I wrote what I said, regarding what he told Mrs. Pohlman on evening. It will also be remembered that I did not say that it was true as it came to me second handed.

Never the less I was little bit too Hasty and I explained in my last letter and on Saturday. I am sorry. Also I wish to say that colum that Miss Elsie McCormick is mostly wrong in her opinion of me.

I have not written to the Press to glory in reading the accounts in the paper or laughing to my self of the way I have eluded the police, I would have been as dead as far as writing to the papers.

I have only written on account of Mrs. Pohlman's trouble for which she should have never been accused. I also wish to say I am not a Braggart I have only mentioned a few things in order to prove that I alone was responsible for my escape and not Mrs. Pohlman. I am not a fool if I am crazy enough to stay around Shanghai until Mrs. Pohlman is aquited of a charge she is wrongly accused of.

Also I wish to tell Miss McCormick that I have been thro' the dangers of a Powder Mill. I was Foreman in T. N. T. Plant of The Dupont Powder Works at Nashvill, Tenn, which during the war was one of the Biggest Plants in the U. S.

Time is short as we are getting ready to cast off so must close. Thanking you and Good By. I am as Before.

AMOS E. NORMAN.

I will be some body else in a few days and my nationality will not be American.

A. E. NORMAN.

Excuse the Paper and Pencil as it is all I have on board with me. Also tell Miss McCormick that it is not love of self that I have written to the papers but love for a woman.

Also the miracle will not Happen.

Also it is not to be sure as she says that Vera Pohlman very likely helped me to get away. Because do it she did not.

U. S. ENGINEER PROTESTS THE BRIDGE AWARD

His Plans Left Out Despite Assurance Of Chinese They Were In Hand

(China Press Correspondence)

Peking, Sept. 23.—John R. Freeman, American hydraulic engineer, a member of the Conservancy Board for the Grand Canal, who was in China during 1918 and 1919 studying river and canal conditions and who entered plans and proposals for the competition for the construction of the Yellow River Bridge, has entered a protest because of the disqualification of his scheme.

The plans were thrown out by the Yellow River Bridge Commission on the ground that, when the documents were examined at the opening of the tenders on June 30, they contained no proposals, and that they were therefor incomplete. John R. Freeman claims that his representative Mr. O. J. Todd was assured by the English-speaking representative of the R. R. Administration on June 17, that both plans and proposals had been received: "three sets of each." Mr. Todd had called at the offices of the R. R. Administration for the express purpose of learning if the documents had been received.

Mr. Todd has appealed to the Railway Administration for the reinstatement of Mr. Freeman's plans and proposals in the competition, on the ground that it is the fault of the Railway Administration that the proposals were not on hand on June 30, declaring that, if it had not been for the assurance of the accredited representative of the Administration that the plans and proposals had been received, it would have been possible to have them traced by cable, or to have had new proposals cabled from the United States.

This was brought out in an interview with a representative of Mr. Freeman, who also outlined the circumstance leading up to the present situation. He said that proposals and plans were mailed in America on May 21, and all presumably came on the steamer Empress of Russia, inasmuch as the plans and Mr. Freeman's letter of introduction for Mr. Todd and Mr. Tan which was mailed on May 29, arrived in Peking on the forenoon of June 17. In order to ascertain whether or not the plans and proposals had been received by the Administration to which they were to have been sent direct, and according to the terms of the competition, clearly marked on the outside, proposals for the competition for the Yellow River Bridge, Mr. Todd, Mr. Goodrich, and Mr. Tan called upon the Administration, and were met by the English-speaking representative, Mr. Chang, and assured that "the plans and proposals had been received—three sets of each."

It was not until the documents were opened in the presence of the Commission on June 30 that the representatives of John R. Freeman were aware that anything was wrong with their program, and then they were informed that it was disqualified because the plans were not accompanied by the proposals.

In spite of the protests to the R. R. Administration and to the Commission, nothing has been accomplished to date. Mr. Todd's and Mr. Goodrich's letter to the Peking-Hankow Railroad Administration voices their protest. It says in part:

"We stated that we came as the representatives of John R. Freemans for the purpose of making sure that his plans and proposals, said to have been mailed on the Steamer Empress of Russia leaving Vancouver on May 26, had actually reached their destination, and were in the proper hands. We were received by Mr. T. S. Chang who said that he was acting for the Chief of the R. R. Administration.

"He informed us that both the plans and the proposals weer in their hands—three sets of each. We told him that it was very necessary to be sure, as we would trace by cable or ge: instructions from New York if the proposals were not there. He was then shown the copy of Mr. Freeman's letter of May 20 to the R. R. Administration in which Mr. Tan and Mr. Todd were introduced. Mr. Chang said that the original of that letter was in their office."

Mr. Freeman's representative said that nothing had been accomplished as yet with regard to the reinstatement of the plans and proposals. The Chinese authorities had merely stated that Mr. Chang of the General Office of the Peking-Hankow R. R. had said to Mr. Todd that he had received Mr. Freeman's letter with maps, but that he did not admit having said that the proposals handed in were complete.

HUNGARY TAKES BACK REQUEST TO JOIN LEAGUE

fact that the task of solving the Upper-Silesian question by its advice, which the Powers have previously undertaken to follow, was a notification to the world that the League of Nations was the only organisation of conciliation and peace, and it has raised the League in the public esteem.

It is now felt that the Council is dealing with this question in a spirit of European and humane patriotism, and the mere fact that the matter is in the hands of the League of Nations has in itself alleviated the irritation.

MOVE TOWARD LIGHT

The journal sees in the establishment of the International Court of Justice a substantial guarantee of enlightenment and appeasement. It regrets that the League of Nations Covenant does not make arbitration obligatory, but it recommends that arbitration should be made obligatory so that a nation which refused to agree to arbitration would give ground for belief that its cause was bad and would stand condemned before the tribunal of the world's public opinion.

It is pointed out that the Permanent Court of Justice now set up differs from the one at The Hague, inasmuch as the latter takes no cognisance of such questions as nations consider affect their honor and higher interest, whereas the new Court is competent to deal with all questions.

When the Court has functioned once or twice and spared humanity from one or two wars it will achieve a predominating position, and no nation will dare to refrain from having recourse to it.

CHURCHILL SAYS IRISH MUST BE LOYAL TO KING

(Reuter's Service)

London, Sept. 24.—Mr. Winston Churchill addressed his constituents in the City Hall, Dundee, today. A procession of unemployed tried to rush the cordon outside the hall, but were driven back by the police, who made a charge.

In the course of his speech Mr. Churchill said the Government were profoundly disappointed at Mr. de Valera's rejection of Dominion Home Rule. Allegiance to the King must be insisted on. Ulster had made great sacrifices, and was no longer a stumbling-block. Mr. Churchill confessed he did not see much real foundation for the prevailing optimism. He was still uncertain where the Irish leaders stood, and he maintained that a conference alone could avert a failure of the attempt to reach a settlement.

Mr. Churchill contended that the present industrial situation was attributable to the collapse of international exchange and Socialist propaganda. He hoped that the Disarmament Conference would lead to a conference with a view to establishing normal exchange. The present Bolshevist agitation helped to destroy confidence and create unemployment.

POLICE CHARGE BRIBE OFFERED IN OPIUM RAID

Foreign Officers Allege That Chinese Sought To Evade Arrest By Money

Two Chinese will be charged at the Mixed Court today with attempting to bribe Sub-Inspector P. Lavelle and Detectives R. W. Yorke and A. E. Balchin while the officers were on an opium raid yesterday.

The foreign policemen, with Chinese detectives, seized about $2,500 worth of the drug at 80 Tong Gee Bai Ka, South of Honan Road, and allege that while the raid was in progress they were offered $2,000 to take half the opium and arrest an assistant, allowing the master of the shop to go. The officers arrested both and confiscated the opium and paraphernalia. The two men taken will answer to the two counts this morning.

FLAGSHIP NINE WINS LAST GAME FROM 26TH DESTROYER DIVISION BY SCORE OF 5-3

Weaver Holds Flotilla Men In Pinches Through 14-Inning Game

BY TULE—BOAT SCRIBE

The baseball team from the Flagship defeated the 26th Destroyer division team, in the 14th inning Sunday to a score of 5 to 3. The game was a hard fou" one from beginning to end with Weaver twirling for the victors and Hopkins on the mound for the 26th. The Destroer team got into the lead in the 2nd inning but lost in the third when the flagship boys piled up 3 runs making the score 3 to 2 in Huron's favor. The Destroyer team evened matters in the 5th, and from then on it was a very exciting game.

In the 6th inning Hopkins delivered 3 balls and brought his men in from the field. In the 14th King got on by being walked, stole 2nd, Duncan singled sending King to 3rd, stealing 2nd. Both King and Duncan crossed the rubber on a bingle which Morehead threw wild to first making Fretag leave his bag in the attempt to stop the throw. Prim flied out to Curry making 3rd out. The Destroyer men had only the privilege of letting 3 men face Weaver at their last time to bat. Final score 5-3 in favor of the flagship.

The game was the first defeat the 26th has had in 19 straight games. Saturday's and Sunday's games were both over the nine inning mark, and they were two games that were hard fought from beginning to end. The population of Shanghai certainly had their afternoon well spent when they saw the two Navy teams clash.

The rooting section of the destroyers had a coffin draped with black, with the lettering "Last Chance" on one side and "Huron" on the other, with which they formed a funeral procession and marched around the infield, stopping at home-plate, and blowing "Taps" over the casket, they were led by a cheer leader who was dressed as a Chinese general, followed by the pall-bearers, who wore Mandarin coats; all in the procession marched with their hats carried over their left breast. During a heated argument while the score was still even, Duncan was presented with the Destroyers imitation trophy cup but refused same to gain his point in the argument, but the umpire broke up the fun by calling the runner safe, and drawing his watch ready to call the game when the Huron players finally decided to abide by his decision.

AMERICAN CO. CONCLUDES ITS AUTUMN CAMP

Competition For Company Trophy Won By The S.R.A. Team

The American company, S.V.C. returned to town yesterday morning after one of the most pleasant and successful camps held in late years. Weather, in contrast to last spring, was clear throughout the period.

Sunday was featured at noon with a tiffin and tea to such distinguished guests as United States Consul General E. S. Cunningham, Admiral Joseph Strauss, Colonel R. Marr Johnson, Captain H. I. Cone of the flagship Huron, United States District Attorney C. P. Holcomb, and others.

The big shooting event, the competition for the historic American Cup, was won by the team of the Shanghai Rifle Association, with a record score of 296 out of a possible 315 points. Long Driving Craze In Golf

Fallacies Of Heavy Clubs And Of Hard Hitting

BY HARRY VARDON

A few years ago I had, as pupil, a young player who showed an exceptional aptitude for the game. He could grasp a principle or an idea in an instant; he hardly ever needed the repetition of a hint. He was a born reproducer of a style. He used to tell me that people often remarked to him:—"It's easy to see who taught you your golf—Vardon." In about twelve months from the time that he started to play, he was a scratch man, and when he left to take up his residence in another part of the country, I really thought that I had helped to mould the methods of an amateur champion of the future.

I lost sight of him during the next five years, and, indeed, did not set eyes on him again until last season. The change that had come over his game was very nearly heartbreaking. This young player of infinite possibilities, who could control the trajectory and direction of every shot like a master, had developed into a wild slogger, intent only on driving a prodigious distance. And a sorry mess he was making of the whole business. He asked me the reason that he had lost the power of controlling the flight of the ball.

"It's this," I said, taking out his ponderous-looking driver, which certainly weighed at least 16 ounces—probably a trifle more. "You're straining your heart but to hit the ball miles; you think a heavy driver will help you to do it, and the club is swinging you, instead of your swinging the club. You've wrecked your swing for every shot in the game with it."

He owned up without any further ado.

"When I started playing again after the war," he said, "I was as good as ever. Then I caught the craze for long driving, the big hitting with a heavy club. I know my golf has gone to pieces through it."

To this story, there is a moral even of national interest. It is sometimes asked whether the standard of British golf is as high as it used to be. The question has been raised more insistently than ever since Jock Hutchison and Tom Kerrigan beat all our professionals in the open championship at St. Andrews. Before the war, I expressed the opinion that the quality of British golf—the accuracy of hitting and other qualities of a scientific character—had deteriorated very considerably in comparison with the golf of the 'nineties. If there had not been this falling-off, I should never have secured my championships at Sandwich in 1911 and Prestwick in 1914, for I was not nearly so good a golfer than as I had been twelve or fifteen years earlier, when it was always a desperately difficult business—and sometimes impossible—to win, no matter how well one played.

PETE HERMAN LOSES BANTAM TITLE TO BUFF

Flyweight Gets The Decision After 15 Rounds Of Fighting

(Reuter's Service)

New York, Sept. 24.—Johnny Buff, who is really a flyweight boxer, has been awarded the world's bantamweight title over Peter Herman, after a 15-round contest. Buff weighed 8 st. 1½ lbs. and Herman 8 st. 5¾ lbs.

Pete Herman was bantam weight champion twice. He was the only champion of pugilism ever to "come back".

Herman lost his title last fall to Joe Lynch of New York in a 15 round bout at Madison Square Garden, N.Y. Seven months later Herman met Lynch again on Ebbetts Field in Brooklyn, and after 15 rounds of fighting regained the title on a judges' decision.

Buff, the new bantamweight champion weighed but 113½ lbs. while Herman tipped the beam at 117¾ lbs. in the last bout at New York.

TANAKA AND OKADA WIN IN SEMI FINALS OF DOUBLES CHAMPIONSHIP, 3 SETS IN 4

Canavarro-Toussaint vs. Potts-Roberts Stopped By Darkness

But one of the semi-final matches in the doubles championships of the Shanghai Lawn Tennis Association played yesterday afternoon was finished, that between Tanaka and Okada and Wade and Ollerdessen on the Cricket Club Courts. The former pair won by scores of 3-6, 10-8, 6-4 and 6-2. The other match, between Potts and Roberts and Canavarro and Toussaint on the Recs grounds was called at dark with the latter pair holding the advantage at 2 matches to 1, 3-6, 7-5 and 6-1. The play will be continued today, and the finals played tomorrow on the Recs. Courts.

Tennis yesterday had its center of interest in the two doubles semi finals. The Cricket Club Courts and the lawns of the Recreation Club were crowded with followers of the game. Special arrangements were made to accommodate the crowd, and to protect the players from the wind.

The match on the S.C.C. courts between Tanaka and Okada and Wade and Ollerdessen provided the better tennis, for the four men at play worked in a dashing, driving style that provided the spectacular touch wished for by onlookers. The match on the Recs' grounds however was slow and lobbing and careful.

Tanaka and Okada by their win yesterday go into the finals tomorrow against the winner of the Potts-Roberts vs. Toussaint-Canavarro match. The latter match will be taken up this afternoon on the Recs Courts at 4 o'clock and finished. The finals tomorrow commence at 4.

George Kelly Bats His Own Way Nots As McGraw Say,

George Kelly is a powerful, hard-swinging batter. He is allowed to offer at whatever pitches suit his fancy. Manager McGraw does not try to direct him when he goes to the plate. Kelly is permitted to swing as often as he likes, and at whatever balls suit his fancy. Under some managers he would not hit so much. There are team leaders who dictate at what pitches their men may offer.

RUTH GETS HIS 56TH HOME RUN

Goes Two Beyond His 1920 Record—Seven Ahead Of Last Year

New York, September 16.—Babe Ruth today drove out his 56th home run of the 1921 season, surpassing by two his 1920 world record of 54.

This makes the great Yankee slugger seven ahead of his mark on the same day last year. On September 16, 1920, Ruth had only only 49 home runs and did not get his 50th until September 24. Ruth still has a little more than two weeks in which to pile up his new world record.

Thomas Hanbury School Boys Hold Long Distance Swim

The annual long distance swim of the boys of the Thomas Hanbury School was held Saturday morning.

The course was laid in the Whangpoo, beginning at the Riverside power station and proceeding down stream to the Tungchou Buoy, a distance of three miles.

A stiff breeze was blowing up stream making the water very rough and swimming difficult. Under these conditions the performance of some of the youngsters was rather remarkable.

Care was taken to see that only the physically fit participated and the swimmers were followed throughout the course by the launch Speedy, kindly loaned by the New Engineering Works, and by masters in sampans.

The results were as follows:

A. Sevoff, T. Sofoulis, N. Takata, S. Katoh, C. Ivanoff.—Three miles.

S. Moalem, J. Wilson.—One mile.

A. Gray, S. Srulevitz, W. Serrall T. Greener, J. Moalem.—One-half mile.

HONGKONG CIVIL SERVICE BOWLS TEAM UNLUCKY

Hongkong, Sept. 22.—The Shanghai Interport Bowls team scored its second victory yesterday afternoon when it defeated a Civil Service four by the big margin of 23-12.

In spite of the fact that the big match has been decided, interest in the closing games of the series did not wane and there was a good attendance yesterday. Play was not as in the previous matches. Shanghai were too strong for their opponents and led throughout the match. Although the Civil Service played up bravely, the game was one-sided and the result was never in doubt.

The teams turned out as follows:

Shanghai.—A. J. Brown, J. R. Tweedie, J. Shaw and D. McAlister (skip).

Civil Service.—A. B. Allan, L. Tacchi, R. Duncan and J. J. Blake (skip). Shanghai threw the first jack and scored 4 in three heads. The locals replied with 3 in the 4th. Shanghai scored 2 in the 5th. In the next head, the local men reduced the lead to one point. After ten or eleven heads, Shanghai began to run away from their opponents.

The locals had extraordinary bad luck throughout the match. Their No. 1 and No. 2 repeatedly lay their woods near the jack only to have the mortification of seeing McAlister dislodge them.

On the previous day Shanghai scored a narrow win over the Police Recreation Club by a count of 16-15. Scoring was slow and the finish proved most exciting. Up to the 13th head the Police were leading by 15 points to 6, but then they had a very bad slump and failed to score again. Shanghai got six singles in succession and with a three at the 20th head brought their score up to their opponents. The last end was very exciting and went in favor of the visitors by a single point, thus giving them the victory.

Scores:

for Infants and Children.

Don't Poison Baby.

FORTY YEARS AGO almost every mother thought her child must have paregoric or laudanum to make it sleep. These drugs will produce sleep, and a few drops too many will produce the sleep from which there is no waking. Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paregoric, laudanum and morphine, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Druggists are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to anybody without labeling them "poison." The definition of "narcotic" is: "A medicine which relieves pain and produces sleep, but which in poisonous doses produces stupor, coma, convulsions and death." The taste and smell of medicines containing opium are disguised, and sold under the names of "Drops," "Cordials," "Soothing Syrups," etc. You should not permit any medicine to be given to your children unless you or your physician know of what it is composed. Castoria does not contain narcotics.

The signature of Chas. H. Fletcher guarantees genuine Castoria

Physicians Recommend Castoria.

"I have frequently prescribed Castoria for common ailments of children with good results."
W. A. CRANDALL, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y.

"I find your Castoria is very beneficial in the treatment of children's ailments."
F. DAVIS, M. D., Chicago, Ill.

"As the father of thirteen children I certainly know something about your great medicine and, aside from my own family experience, I have, in my years of practice found Castoria a popular and efficient remedy in almost every home."
WM. J. MCCRANN, M. D., Omaha, Neb.

"I object to what are called patent medicines, where the maker alone knows what stuff is put in them, but I know the formula of your Castoria and advise its use in proper cases. I judge it to be a very useful, as well as harmless family medicine."
N. B. SIZER, M. D., Brooklyn, N. Y.

The secret Javánese art of Batik is known only to a few families in the Dutch Indies, therefore the true handmade Batik is as expensive there as it is in Shanghai. Subscriptions will be taken place either at the Banks designated below, or at the Accounting Department or the Peking-Hankow Railway.

The regulations governing the issuance of the bonds are as follows:

Regulations governing the Issuance of Peking-Hankow Railway Short-Term Bonds.
(Improvement)

Art. 1. With a view to develop the traffic along its line, the Peking-Hankow Railway is authorised by the Ministry of Communications to float a short term loan, to be known as Peking-Hankow Railway Short Term Bonds.

Art. 6. The term of the bonds is four and half years. Interest for the first six months shall be paid in advance at the time of subscription. $500,000 bonds shall be retired in every six months by drawing, until the total issue shall be retired on March 31, the 15th year of Chinese Republic. The drawing shall be taken place on March 15 and September 15 of every year, supervised by representatives from the Ministry of Communications.

Art. 7. Subscriptions shall be closed at the end of September, the tenth year of Chinese Republic. Subscriptions paid before this date shall receive a monthly interest of 0.8%, to be counted by days, from date of subscription to the end of September which, together with the interest for the first six months (from November 1st, the tenth year of Chinese Republic, to March 31st the eleventh year) shall be deducted from the amount of subscription at the time when payment is made. Interest shall hereafter be paid semi-annually.

Art. 8. The bonds shall be sold at ninety two dollars and eighty cents ($92.80) per every hundred dollars ($100), but shall be retired at the par value.

After Seven Years

At a distance of seven years we have an opportunity of viewing the events of 1914 through the pages of Ian Hay's new story, "The Willing Horse" (Hodder and Stoughton). In a few concise lines the author is able to recall for us all that we felt and experienced in those early days of terror, and he makes the picture acceptable by his great good humor and sympathy.

Of course, there is a love story, but this is subordinate to the real interest of the book, which is to be found in the vivid descriptions of warfare and the whimsical sidelights on the British soldier.

Again The Sailing Ship

(New York Times)

JOSEPH Conrad laments the "passing" of the old sailing ship, but the pressure of the fuel problem bids fair to bring it back. High cost of operation is the main obstacle to the development of the suddenly acquired American merchant marine. The demand is for larger merchantmen with smaller crews. This is met largely by the American type of super-schooner with five, six and even seven masts, and an equipment of steam steering and hoisting gear. Even in speed these schooners often show a clean pair of heels to many freight steamers. The old clipper ships occasionally made better time than the steamers. But the new Yankee schooners of five to seven masts have far outstripped the clippers. Furthermore, many of these super-schooners carry auxiliary power for use in zones of calm or against head winds.

All told, the advantages of the sailing ship, with modern labor-saving devices, contrasting with the difficulties that the steamer incurs from the passing of the era of cheap fuel and cheap labor, have led practical seafaring men to predict more and more stoutly since the war a return of the sailing ship to its old predominance as a freight carrier. Coal and oil must be saved for the navy.

A design was presented not long ago, at a meeting of the Institution of Engineers and Shipbuilders in Scotland, for one of these super-schooners, with minimum requirements of crew and fuel, as a solution of the present shipping situation. The design includes the use of upper and lower gaffsails, for easy handling, and of steel wire rope for all running gear, led to an independent drum, and motor winches operated by electric switches from the quarterdeck. A Diesel engine will drive a single feathering propeller, when wind fails, and always supply electric light, heat and power throughout the ship. The author of this design is a progressive naval architect and yacht designer who served an apprenticeship in America under Herreshoff, and in offering this model he asserted the economic necessity of reviving the wide use of the sailing ship.

Wind is the one thing that has not changed in price. The old clipper ships were capable of 13 to 15 knots an hour, being thus above the speed of the average steam freighter of today. The new super-schooners, with the auxiliary equipment proposed, would be much faster. A deck watch consisting of the officer, who will operate the switches for pulling ropes, and a man at the wheel, will represent an immense cut in operating costs.

Under Pressure

Four-year-old Eric was going with Daddy to a neighbor's for an afternoon of tennis—the tennis being Daddy's share of the visit. In a stage aside, as they were leaving home, Mother told Daddy not to stay to tea. "Of course, if they press you very much, you may," she added.

Invited to stay, Daddy declined. The hostess then went to Eric, as to a court of appeal. "You will stay, won't you?" she asked. "I will if you press me very much," was his response. He was pressed.

Dr. Waddell Replies To Critics Of His Integrity

Peking, Sept. 24.—Dr. J. A. L. Waddell has finally, after much urging on the part of Chinese officials who are interested only in seeing the Yellow River bridge built at the minimum cost consistent with good workmanship, given out the correspondence regarding his protest against the award of the contract as it now stands. The following correspondence in full sheds an illumination, engineers say, over the controversy:

LETTER OF ASS'N.

Dr. J. A. L. Waddell,
Grand Hotel de Pekin,
Peking.

Dear Dr. Waddell.—Referring to the article which appeared in the Peking Leader of August 30 setting forth a communication received by you from three of your colleagues on the Yellow River Bridge Commission:

On behalf of this Association we wish to congratulate you upon your prompt and fearless manner of dealing with this absurd "notification."

The members of our Association who were present at the dinner given in your honor by this Association on June 29 last are fully aware that the opening statement as published in the "notification" of your colleagues is false and without any foundation whatever. For your information we beg to say that the full text of your speech made on that occasion appears in the June issue of the Journal of the Association of Chinese and American Engineers, which has been in the hands of the printers for the past month and should be received from the Press within the next day or so. In your address you explained the situation fully and clearly and your statements were directly opposite those attributed to you by your colleagues in the "notification" as published. There was nothing concealed, and nothing to conceal, about the whole matter. You told the engineers at the time referred to, which was we believe the first occasion on which you made an address after your arrival in Peking, all of the facts relating to your connection with the work, of which there could not be the slightest criticism.

SPIRIT OF BLACKMAIL

The entire "notification" seems to us to breathe a spirit of libel and blackmail and we are amazed beyond expression that some of your colleagues should have placed themselves in a position where they may be called upon to answer charges which they have made themselves liable for before the courts of their respective countries.

In conclusion permit us to say that this Association is proud of the stand that you have taken in this matter—which is both honorable and straight-forward—realising that you are prompted only by the best motives of serving China to the best of your ability in this important matter.

With assurances of our high respect and esteem, we are, yours sincerely,

Association of Chinese And American Engineers.
(Sgd.) K. Y. Kwong,
President.
(Sgd.) Murray Sullivan,
First Vice-President.

Peking, September 1, 1921.

DR. WADDELL'S REPLY

The Association Of Chinese And American Engineers,
Peking.

Gentlemen: Please accept many thanks for the confidence you have manifested in me and the very strong letter of support you have written.

In respect to Mr. Wilmer's statement to you that I have "up to the present entirely failed to meet the criticisms in our letter," I may say that these criticisms were fully answered in a letter to the Minister of Communications immediately upon receipt of the "notification" or letter from Mr. Wilmer and his two colleagues. With the full permission of the Minister of Communications, today received, I take this occasion to write you in detail replying to the charges which have been brought up against me, and setting forth the facts of the case.

At 4:30 p.m. on August 29, there reached me a letter in French from three of my colleagues on the Board of Advisory Engineers to the Yellow River Bridge Commission, attacking my professional integrity and threatening exposure. The communication seemed designed to prevent my making certain recommendations to the Government. As I have no intention of withdrawing my present recommendations, and as the charges made are as untrue as they are serious, I published them at once. I desire any statements of this nature to rest squarely in the open. The material of the letter did not concern the technical details of the Yellow River Bridge Commission. The entire proceeding was an unjust and scurrilous attack upon my personal honor and integrity. As such, its publication was a personal matter.

MAKE PERSONAL MATTER

I regret the necessity of the present action. I had hoped that my colleagues would discuss my recommendations technically and scientifically. But this they have never been willing to do, although I have several times suggested it. They have preferred to make it a personal matter. Moreover, during their long contact with me they have never broached any of these subjects, and never even hinted at the outrageous charges which they so suddenly exploded in their notification to me. Again I deplore that the following matters do not concern the true issues at stake, and I regret the necessity for taking up personal affairs when the real problem is that of getting the best bridge for the Yellow River. The "notification" is so offensive in its nature that I did not reply to its authors, but discussed the matter in full with the Minister of Communications.

As I have already explained in an address to your Association, when the Chinese Government did me the great honor to select me as its first choice for the American Representative on the Board, I was engaged in an endeavor to form a combination of a contractor and capitalists to compete for your work on a plan that I had evolved. I had found the contractor but neither he nor I had been able to interest any capitalists. However, he had spent considerable time and money on the preparation of drawings and other papers and in various other ways, in his endeavor to get ready for the competition.

PASSED OVER PLANS

When the invitation to serve on your Board reached me I was on the eve of leaving New York for the West; and there was just time for me to consult with my co-worker, tell him that I desired to accept the appointment, withdraw entirely from the organisation we had created, and send a written acceptance to the Chinese Minister at Washington.

The least I could do was to pass over to my co-worker the plans I had evolved and upon which he had been working, together with all of my calculations and detailed estimates of cost. I had acted largely in the capacity of consulting engineer, and these plans were as much his as my property. Had I gone off leaving my former co-worker in the lurch, I would have done an unethical act of which I should always have been ashamed. As he was unable to find financial support after I had withdrawn, I introduced him to certain people whom I thought might help him. In all of this I was entirely disinterested.

Later when I called upon His Excellency, Sao-ke Alfred Sze, the Chinese Minister in Washington, I explained to him the whole situation as just indicated. Far from deeming my abortive attempt to enter the competition as a detriment to my serving on the Board, he urged me to see that the plan I had evolved for the bridge, and which I explained to him in a general way, should not be lost to China, and that it be entered in the competition.

NO FINANCIAL INTEREST

That was the situation when I left the United States; but later, for various reasons the finances were again insufficient, and the project was dropped. At no time since my acceptance of the offer from the Chinese Government have I been in any way connected with the tender. I had no financial interest; I had no contact or knowledge of its progress other than hearsay and a familiarity of the plans and drawings as far as I had carried them before my withdrawal. Before arriving in Peking I learned of its failure, and the bid was never submitted in the competition.

Had this tender been presented, my previously-arranged course of action would have been quite simple, viz., to explain to my fellow members on the Board that the design submitted was one of my evolving, I should then have dropped out while it was being considered, leaving to the other four the entire decision as to where it should be placed in the competition. That would have been perfectly fair to all concerned as well as eminently ethical and proper. Any other procedure never occurred to me, inasmuch as it would have been the only method open to one whose professional integrity has always been above the chicanery of schemers. In view of the actual facts this part of the discussion is purely hypothetical.

COPIED FROM BOOK

In regard to the second allegation, viz., that I passed favorably upon one of the competitive designs the superstructure which was copied from my book, I would state that when I examined the Dossier containing it, I liked the design, but did not recognise it as a reproduction of one of the spans that my office had designed and engineered for an important structure some years before for the Great Northern Railway Company. Far from considering this a breach, however, I venture to advance the thesis that if the design was considered excellent enough to appear in one of my own books, I should not be likely to disavow it because it entered into the competition. The puerility of the entire discussion seems childish ad nauseam.

My report to our "Board of Five" was made and delivered before Monsieur Dethieu ascertained that the superstructure was a copy. Later when the Chinese members of the Commission insisted upon receiving a copy of the individual findings of each member of the Board, a copy of mine was turned in without alteration.

Herewith is an extract in full regarding the design in question:

"This is an excellent design in both substructure and superstructure; but it is questionable whether a depth of 30 meters for foundations is quite sufficient, although the designer gives figures to prove that it is enough. These figures I have not yet checked, but I would far rather trust to my experience and judgment than to any mathematics, and I think it would be well to put the piers down a little deeper, although at Sioux City, Iowa, on a Missouri River bridge built in the early nineties, as stated previously, I landed open-dredging piers at a depth of ninety feet below Low-Water. The material, however, was coarse sand, and could resist scour far better than the soil at the Yellow River crossing.

LAYOUT ECONOMICAL

"The layout of spans and piers in the design of 'Dossier H' is economical for the type and depth of piers adopted. No mattresses have been provided for in the estimates. The spans are excellently proportioned and their weight checks very closely with that given in the curves of 'Bridge Engineering,' being about 1.3 percent in excess thereof.

"The pressure on the pier foundations is about 5½ short tons per square foot. This is some 30 percent too high, according to my method of figuring.

"The cost of structure is $9,736,334.

"The design is so good and the cost is so reasonable that it should be seriously considered for one of the prizes. If the Board should decide that a depth of 30 meters below Low-Water is sufficient and that I am too conservative in my limit of pressure, this design ought to stand a good chance for first place."

You will notice that I did not give this project unqualified approval as claimed, nor did I recommend it for construction. In proof of this last statement, permit me to quote the final paragraph of my report to the "Board of Five" hereinbefore mentioned:

"In my opinion, it would be a good plan for the 'Board of Five' to state in its Report that it stands ready to prepare plans, estimates and specifications for a bridge that will be superior in character to and much less expensive than any of the structures offered in the competition, also that it would take no great time to prepare the necessary papers. These would be put in such shape that bids could be received almost by return mail, for all that would be necessary to do in order to submit a tender would be to fill out a few blank spaces."

WHY NOT DUPLICATE?

As for the question of it being a copy, I see no reason why this should disqualify it. Certainly if a type of bridge built over another river should be suitable to the Yellow River I see no reason why it should not be duplicated. Further discussion on this point seems to reduce the competition to the level of a college examination in bridge engineering. Later this bid was rejected for a certain technical ruling and I made no further comment.

As long as there was any chance whatsoever of my recommendation of an entirely new set of plans to be prepared by the Commission being considered, I adhered to it; but it was flatly rejected in full session by a majority of the members of the entire Commission; thereupon, in the hope of securing for China a properly designed bridge at reasonable cost, I reluctantly consented to agree that the contract might be given to the bidder who tendered GB., with proviso that he accept such modification of the design and diminution of price as the Commission would require.

OBJECTION SUSTAINED

An attempt was made by one member of the Board to force the modifications to being confined to the superstructure only; but I objected strenuously to this, and my objection was sustained by the President. In view of this concession, as I have already remarked, I reluctantly agreed to the resolution. Later an attempt was made to present any modification of substructure or span-length, and it was further stated that practically no important modifications of superstructure would be allowed; as I considered this action to be a breach of faith, I stated flatly my disapproval of this procedure and withdrew my signature in order to have the privilege of presenting a Minority Report. This Mr. Ohmra and I later prepared, signed and formally presented.

My only reason in signing the compromise agreement with its provisional awards was to secure some concession from the others and thereby prevent them from forcing the Chinese Government to accept a bridge that was faulty in design and which cost approximately three million dollars more than was necessary. Immediately upon the signing of the agreement the other three claimed that I had no right to make such modifications and that the contract should be awarded at once, on the basis of the present design however faulty, and the present price—however exorbitant.

In all that I have done I feel that I have acted honorably and in the interests of my client, the Chinese Government. No other consideration than its welfare has influenced my actions from start to finish. I came to China not to protect American (or any other) interests, but to serve the Chinese Government to the best of my ability and to give to it the full benefit of my many years of hard study and wide experience as a bridge specialist.

URGED TO DO HIS BEST

As I pointed out in a letter which I wrote to Mr. Yu Jan-fong, President of the Commission, the salient point of division between the Majority and the Minority on the Board is whether we were called to China solely to pick out the four best (or least objectionable) of all the plans presented in the competition, or whether, in addition to this, we are expected to give to the Chinese Government the full benefit of our experience and skill in all matters in which we are concerned. The Majority take the former view, and the Minority the latter. If our sole function in China is to pass upon the order of merit of the competing projects, the Minority has transgressed, and may be open to censure therefor. In my own case, I would state that His Excellency, Minister Sze, earnestly urged me to do all in my power as an engineer of high standing to aid his country. I promised that I would—and I have done so—hence the disagreeable situation in which I now find myself placed.

I dislike to write so long a document upon a subject which does not concern the technical questions of the New Yellow River Bridge Commission. In my opinion such personal discussion has no place in the function of the Commission. I have long been critical of some of the actions of three of my colleagues. I have at times considered that these actions were not in accordance with professional ethics, but I have also considered that it was not my business to introduce so personal a matter into the discussions. In addition I have been willing to believe that there must be a misunderstanding.

And now I am at a loss to explain this sudden personal attack; I cannot understand how men of their standing can be capable of such a letter—especially since never during our whole association have they once spoken to me as to the propriety of my conduct.

As I have stated many times, in my opinion the Yellow River Bridge should be the finest structure of its kind which can be procured and the Chinese Government should not be compelled to pay a single dollar—not to speak of three millions—more than is necessary. This after all is the issue.

Very respectfully yours,
(Sgd.) J. A. L. WADDELL.

Photo-Analysis

Employers advertising "Situations Vacant" are making it a rule to ask applicants to send their photographs. Undoubtedly it gives an impression of personality which a letter alone cannot always give. In the United States the alert business man has gone a step farther. He has a photograph filed with the correspondence of all members of his staff with whom he is in regular touch only by letter.

So when the chief in New York writes to his traveler Smith in Arkansas he calls for Smith's photo as well as Smith's last letter. From the photo he sees again what manner of man Smith is, and tunes his communication according to Smith's enthusiastic features or—if it be Jones—in a sergeant-major vein.

TEXACO
TEXACO ROOFING
the Asphaltic Roofing

If interested in a practical roofing you should know more about the Texaco kind—it is a durable, economical, proof against every kind of weather and easy to apply.

Texaco Roofing is a composition of asphalt with an all-rag felt base. Use it on any kind of structure you may possess. There are four weights—a weight suited to every requirement from factory to residence.

Texaco Roofing resists the action of chemical fumes, gas and smoke as well as rain, fog, sleet and any other form of moisture. That's why it is so economical to use. Texaco Roofing is fire resisting and, due to a special tempering process, proof against weather change. It will not melt in hot weather nor will extremely low temperatures cause it to crack.

Berlin To Try Out Trackless Trolley

One Man Cars For Suburbs Also Desired By Director Of Railways

Berlin, Aug. 6.—Berlin hopes to find a solution for financing its street railways by introducing trackless trolley cars and by using cars operated entirely by one man in the suburbs. Dr. Adler, municipal director of street railways, whom the street car unions kept in office last spring by threatening a general strike if he were dismissed, announced that he would experiment with trackless trolley cars, which not only will obviate the expense of 1,500,000 marks per kilometer for tracks but will be even cheaper to operate than automobile buses, as the street cars cost only three marks per kilometer to run as against five and half marks for buses.

Dr. Adler has succeeded in balancing the books of the Berlin street car system and in wiping out a deficit which ran as high as 20,000,000 marks a month. By introducing psychological tests for motormen collisions have been reduced from 60 per 1,000,000 kilometers run to 15 and the damages to cars reduced one-third.

Fares have been increased from 10 pfennigs to 1 mark, with a universal transfer for 1 mark and 50 pfennigs. Thus the street car service has an income commensurate with present day living costs, but 50 percent below the gold mark scale. Only 35 percent of the deficit was met by increased fares, the remainder being wiped out by savings in administration costs.
